BLOODSHED FEARED.

Situation at Hazleton, Pennsylvania, Very Grave.

SOLDIERS AND STRIKERS CLASH.

Military Authorities Are Watchful and Ready For Any Emergency and the People of the Town Are in a State Which May Easily Become Panic-Preparations Made For the Funerals.

HAZLETON, Pa., Sept. 13.—The situation here is graver than it has been at any time since the bloody affray of Friday afternoon. There is strong reason to fear a conflict between the strikers and the military, and there is an indication that from 5,000 to 7,000 more miners will join the malcontents.

Feeling runs high against Sheriff Martin and his deputies, and the intensity of the situation is such that a sudden turn of the head or a word spoken above the ordinary tone brings a running crowd. The soldiers are watchful and ready for any emergency, and the people of the town are in a state which may easily become panic.

An incident of ugly omen occurred during the funeral of three of the victims yesterday afternoon. As services were being held inside of the St. Joseph's church about 2,000 foreigners were congregated about the doors. A number of them raised their voices, and it is declared by eye-witnesses that a policeman stationed near the door became unduly officious. Instantly an ominous muttering followed, mingled with scowling looks and clenched fists. Word was immediately carried indoors to the Rev. Father Aust. He hurried out to the door and bunched the men who seemed most quarrelsome into the church. A few words of counsel to the others prevented further demonstrations.

The striking miners have made elaborate preparations for a demonstration at the funeral of 10 of the victims. The military authorities are determined that nothing of the kind shall be permitted, and that from this time on there shall be no marching of any character whatsoever, whether during funerals or otherwise. This resolution is not generally known and the miners are going on with their arrangements.

It has been arranged that the 10 coffins shall be carried on the shoulders of the strikers from the undertaker's shop to the front of St. Joseph's church. In front of the church a platform is to be erected, upon which it is the purpose to place the 10 coffins so that they may be viewed by the crowd. Then addresses in Polish, Lithuanian and English are to be made by priests and others, the bodies will be carried inside and the pontifical high mass will be celebrated. After the services the procession will go to the Polish cemetery where eight of the coffins, those containing Poles, will be placed in one large grave. It is the purpose to acquire by subscription sufficient funds to erect over this a monument bearing the names of the victims and a brief history of the event. Seventeen societies, all but one made up of Poles, Hungarians and others of the Slav race and one of Irish are to march in the funeral procession. If General Gobin executes the intention he announces this whole program will be upset and it is feared that the men will resent any interference with the disposition of their dead.

To all intent and purposes Hazleton is under martial law. General Gobin declared last night that in spite of the warrants issued no constables nor any authority will be permitted to arrest the deputies. He said that the sheriff is an executive officer whose duty is to preserve the peace and that he (Gobin) and the troops are really subordinate to the sheriff at this time, being engaged helping him to perform that duty. Under these circumstances he will not permit interference with the sheriff's officials so long as the militia is here. In spite of this fine distinction the commander's decision on this point is accepted as superceding the civil authorities by the military power.

The addition to the strikers' ranks, if made, will be the men at Cox's mines, and should they go out the last big anthracite company in the region will be idle. The 2,000 men employed at colliery No. 7 had a meeting at Stockton Saturday night and drew up a petition to the operators demanding an increase in wages of 10 per cent. This will be presented to the operators and the action in the event of refusal is "strike." It is accepted as a fact that if these men go out all the others employed by the company will join them, making the total number something between 5,000 and 7,000 from these mines alone. The Cox men had already been offered an increase, but rejected it on the ground that it was still lower than the scale paid by the other operators in the region. These men have been working steadily up to this time, and of late up to 10 o'clock at night.

Affidavits have been obtained from a number of the miners who were in Friday afternoon's affray, which throw some light on the shooting. They declare, in substance, that on the morning of that day a messenger arrived at Harwood and asked the foreigners to come to Lattimer, as the employees of colliery No. 1 at that place were about to strike. Later a second message to this same effect arrived, and then the men started over to Lattimer. At Hazle colliery, so these affidavits continue, Sheriff Martin met them and warned them not to go through Hazleton but to go around the other way. They did so, but arriving at the fatal bend in the road near Lattimer, they again found themselves confronted by the sheriff, this time backed by the army of deputies. As soon as they reached the spot, it is declared, Sheriff Martin stepped out and roughly grabbed for the foremost man by his coat collar. With his other hand he thrust a revolver into his face and used abusive language. The miner knocked the sheriff's revolver arm from in front of him and tried to wrench himself from the official's grasp. Almost instantly, the affidavit says, the order to fire was given. The deputies were lined up in a hollow square, the fourth side of which was formed by the body of strikers. This would possibly account for the fact that so many were shot in the back and side.

In the office of the Lehigh Traction company is a brown cutaway coat which one of the men, now dead, wore on Friday, last. There are three bullet holes in it, one through the front, one through an arm and the third through the tails. In an inside pocket was attend the sick, and if we are going to isolate the physicians simply because they have been in infected towns or inoculated with yellow fever patients, we might just as well set down, fold our hands and let the plague have full swing."

DENGUE AT EDWARDS.

A Number of Cases Reported and One Death Has Occurred.

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 13.—Excitement over yellow fever has been renewed here. Yesterday morning numerous cases of dengue were reported about Edwards. It will be remembered that it was previously reported that yellow fever existed at Edwards and that Hon. S. S. Champion has died of the scourge after having visited a family just returned from Ocean Springs. This report was afterward denied by the Edwards authorities.

An order was promulgated yesterday that all trains from the infected district be forced to pass through the city without stopping, and that quarantine be enforced with all possible strictness.

Dr. Purnell, a yellow fever expert, has left Vicksburg for Edwards to investigate the cases of fever there, and then go to Pelahatchie, 25 miles east of here, to inquire into a case there.

SKAGUAY PASS CLOSED.

Fourteen Miles of the Way Strewn With Dead Horses.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Sept. 13.—The steamer City of Seattle arrived yesterday, five days from Skaguay. Among the passengers are 12 men, who started for the Klondike but failed to cross the pass. A. C. Warner of Seattle, an artist who has been getting views on both the Dyce and Skaguay passes for the past week, was a returning passenger on the Seattle. He says the Skaguay pass is closed for the season, but that many are still floundering around in the mud in a vain attempt to get through. The first 14 miles of the trail from Skaguay beach is strewn with the carcasses of 600 horses. Eleven saloons and three dance halls are doing business there, but Warner says there is no trouble, there being no fighting or thieving.

At Dyce the people are still moving slowly forward, though greatly impeded by mud and rain. With the exception of two days, rain has fallen continuously for three weeks.

Collector of Customs Ivy is doing a rushing business in the confiscation of whisky. He has 30 inspectors on the beaches and but little stuff gets through. Frank Cain, a Canadian, was caught in a sloop a few days ago with $8,000 stock of whisky. The stock was seized and Cain sent to Juneau jail. Whisky sells at $36 per gallon at Lake Linderman.

The Thorp party started across from Mission to the Yukon valley a few days ago with 80 head of cattle. They expect to make the drive in 35 days.

CAUSE OF THE WRECK.

Coroner's Verdict in the Great Horror Near Newcastle, Colo.

NEWCASTLE, Colo., Sept. 13.—Frank Burbank, conductor, and Engineer Ostrander, deceased, of the Colorado Midland railway, are charged by the coroner's jury with being responsible for the frightful wreck which occurred here last Friday morning. The jury decided from the evidence that the conductor and engineer attempted to arrive at Newcastle siding upon the time allotted by order by train dispatcher to the Rio Grande passenger westbound. Conductor Burbank was released on his own recognizance, and after the verdict was announced he was not rearrested. The verdict was received without any surprise.

The death of Rev. Alexander Hartman of Herscher, Ill., and the finding of the body of Engineer Ostrander increases the number of known dead to 11. The coroner's researches among the ruins have convinced him that from 6 to 10 more persons met death in the awful accident.

CUBAN ELECTION OVER.

Domingo Mendez Capete Selected For President of the Republic.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The Herald's Havana correspondent says:

"I have just received apparently reliable advices from Nuevitas, which state that the Cuban elections are over, and that Domingo Mendez Capete has been elected president. Advices to a local newspaper also state that Capete has been elected. I have never heard him mentioned in Havana as a probable candidate. He is a lawyer, was formerly governor of Matanzas, and is said to have received the support of General Gomez.

"Before the election took place arrangements were made to have the results conveyed to western Cuba by special couriers. No courier has yet arrived in Havana province.

PLAGUE SPREADING.

Seven New Cases of Yellow Fever in New Orleans.

NO GENERAL ALARM RESULTED.

The Authorities Still Confident of Their Ability, With Modern Sanitary Appliances, to Successfully Quarantine the Infected Districts—The Disease Believed to Be Stamped Out at Ocean Springs.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 13.—Shortly before noon yesterday the board of health officially declared six of the suspicious cases of fever on St. Claude street to be yellow fever. A couple of hours subsequently the board announced another pronounced case of fever at Miro and Esplanade streets, also in the lower part of the city, but a mile or more away from the infected square. The announcement of the first six cases as yellow fever was not unexpected, although it was hoped from the delay on the part of the experts that those cases were simply of bilious malaria.

No general alarm has resulted, although the news rapidly spread through the city. The authorities do not believe that the situation is materially worse than it was four or five days ago, and they were still confident of their ability, with modern sanitary appliances, to successfully quarantine the infected districts.

The official bulletin of the board of experts, declaring the St. Claude street cases to be yellow fever, was received by President Olliphant soon after 11 o'clock. Dr. Olliphant immediately sent for members of the press and gave out the report, which was signed by Drs. Lemonnier, Touatre, Bickham, Petit and Parham of the board of experts, and Dr. Devron, the attending physician.

Of the original 12 cases, all of which had their origin from a case that had come from Ocean Springs, the six other than those reported as yellow fever, were announced to be practically well, up and walking about their homes. Of the six pronounced yellow fever, four are convalescent and two were declared to be critically ill, one of these having suffered a relapse since Saturday.

Among the suspicious cases reported Saturday was that of a boy named Roy, living at Miro and Esplanade streets. Drs. Lemonnier, Touatre and Matas were sent to make a careful observation of the case. Yesterday afternoon they pronounced it to be unquestionably yellow fever, and as having apparently had its origin in Scranton, Miss., or in the vicinity of that town. As soon as the report was received the board of health took charge of the house, quarantined the inmates, placed guards so that no one might come within close proximity to the premises, and set to work thoroughly to disinfect the neighborhood. A brother of the patient, who had left the premises some time before the official announcement, was given a permit to return, but orders were issued that under no circumstances to let him or any member of the household to again leave the premises.

A number of additional suspicious cases were again reported to the board of health yesterday. In each instance physicians were at once dispatched to investigate. Their reports have been uniformly that the suspicions were groundless. The force of physicians attached to the board of health has been largely increased and the board is in communication with every section of the city.

Acting Mayor Britton and the members of the conference committee met the board of health yesterday and discussed the question of sanitation. Agreements have been made with the water works company and with the large plants on the river to furnish an ample supply of water. Many of the gutters are being flushed and it was said that practically every one in the city will soon have running water in it. A heavy rainstorm visited New Orleans yesterday morning and assisted in cleaning the streets. Commissioners of Public Works McGary said that he would add materially to his force and that in a few days the city would be in a cleaner condition than it has been for years. Assurances were given that the money required would be forthcoming to do all the work contemplated.

President Olliphant, soon after he got the report of the experts, wired Governor Foster, who had requested to be kept fully informed as to the situation, and who is co-operating with the board. Dr. Olliphant also notified the railroad companies and others who had a special interest in the situation. The news was generally spread through Louisiana and the southern states, and it is probable that most of the towns that have not quarantined New Orleans will now refuse to have any communication with this city. The situation in this respect, however, will not be much aggravated, for the Crescent City has already been bottled up for several days.

Dr. Lehmann, who has been at Ocean Springs for several days and is a yellow fever expert, has returned. Dr. Lehmann participated with the medical experts on the coast in the diagnosis of several cases of fever there. He says:

"I went over to Ocean Springs to attend the poor suffering with the yellow fever. After a most diligent search for any who might be suffering with the disease, answering a number of calls, I investigated the condition of convalescents, and seeing a few cases by courtesy of the attending physician, I concluded that as no yellow fever existed my duties were over."

Dr. Lehmann came direct from Ocean

Springs here having, however, to undergo a thorough fumigation of his clothes and effects. The board of health here gave him permission to come here. As there has since been considerable inquiry as to the right of a physician to come from any infected district without detention, when a lay person is refused permission, Secretary Patton of the board of health was asked for a statement. He said:

"It is the invariable rule in yellow fever epidemics to give the widest possible latitude to physicians traveling. They are presumed to understand thoroughly the scientific means usually employed to destroy germs about their person, in their clothes and effects. Generally they are successful in accomplishing this. Hence physicians rarely carry the infection from one point to another. I set aside from this, somebody with scientific knowledge must find a cheap nickel 32-caliber 'bull dog' revolver. This had not been used in the riot because the chamber contained neither empty nor loaded shells and it could not have been fired before the man was shot because he would have had no time to unload it. It established that this is the only weapon contained in the whole mob of miners, and the conditions indicate that the first shot could not have come from their side. There were three companies of deputies and one of these made up of men who have served as mine police in the past, had had much trouble with the strikers on previous occasions and were said to be in a revengeful mood against them.

DISASTROUS FREIGHT WRECK.

Seven Men Killed and Six Others Injured in the Indian Territory.

VAN BUREN, Ark., Sept. 13.—A most disastrous freight wreck occurred on the Iron Mountain road at Hanzom, I. T., a small station 20 miles west of Van Buren, at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, resulting in the death of seven men and the serious injury of six others, two of whom will die.

The dead are: William Fame, Charles Fame, Douglass Anderson, John Johnson, Bore Henderson, Frank Hamilton and H. A. Walton.

The injured are: George Coffman, Jack Jones, James Phillips, Robert Eubanks, Charles Pender and George Parker.

Of the wounded it is thought that two will die as they suffered internal injuries. All of the dead and wounded were sent to Vian, with the exception of Walton's body, it being brought to this place where he has relatives living. None of the train crew were hurt.

The wrecked train was a local freight from Coffeyville, Kan., to Van Buren. While the train was running at a speed of 20 miles an hour, the forward trucks of one of the cars near the engine broke, wrecking 10 cars loaded with walnut logs and baled hay. With the exception of two cars in front and three cars in the rear, including the caboose, every car of the 20 composing the train was ditched.

In the middle of the train was a car loaded with heavy machinery and it was in this car that 18 men were stealing a ride, and from which seven dead and six seriously wounded were taken by the trainmen shortly afterward. It appears that the occupants of the wrecked car were a party of men and boys living at Vian, I. T., who were coming to Van Buren to find employment in the cotton fields. When the machinery car left the rails it fell on its side, nearly all of the men being caught by the heavy beams. A car of logs was piled on top of the one in which the men were riding, and that any escaped instant death is but little short of a miracle.

A message was sent to Train Master Walsh at this place by the train crew and he immediately ordered out a wrecking crew, and with Division Road Master McLeod went to the scene of the wreck, taking with them Dr. Dibrell, the company's local surgeon at this place. The first thing done was to extricate the dead and wounded and on account of the heavy logs and machinery under which they were buried the task was a laborious one and it was several hours before the last of the bodies was removed from the wreck.

Bernard J. Treacy Dead.

BOSTON, Sept. 13.—Bernard J. Treacy, the millionaire horse breeder of Lexington, Ky., died at the city hospital last night. Mr. Treacy, who was here on a visit, fell last Wednesday night when ascending the steps leading to a friend's residence on Upton street, and struck upon the pickets of an iron fence, causing painful injuries. He was removed to the city hospital, where his condition was critical for a day or two, then changed for the better, and he was believed to be getting along nicely. Within the past 24 hours, however, he suffered a relapse and grew rapidly worse, passing away about 6 o'clock yesterday evening.

Mine Disaster Over the Ocean.

MELBOURNE, Sept. 13.—A fire has been discovered in the Broken Hill mine between Jamiesons and the Broad bridge shafts. Two hundred men who were engaged in efforts to extinguish the flames were overcome by the poisonous fumes. Fifty have been brought to the surface and of these three are dead. Efforts to subdue the fire are being continued from the top of the mine.

Well Known Newspaper Man Dead.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 13.—W. H. Miner, one of the best known newspaper correspondents in Ohio, died suddenly Saturday night of apoplexy. He was aged 87 years, and leaves a wife and two children. For two terms he was a member of the state board of pardons. For eight years he was a representative of a Cincinnati paper here.

MINERS' STRIKE OVER

Convention Accepts the Sixty-Five-Cent Compromise.

WORK TO BE RESUMED AT ONCE.

A Ten-Day's Delay Is Urged by Resolution, but Will Probably Not Be Heeded. Anti-Settlement Delegates Were Finally Worn Out and Forced to Accede to the Proposition of the Union Officials.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 13.—The great miners' strike which was declared on July 4, was brought to an end Saturday evening, so far, at least, as western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indian and West Virginia are concerned, by the action of the interstate convention of miners, which had been in session here since Wednesday.

After a day of voting and wrangling, the convention adopted a resolution accepting the proposition of the Pittsburgh operators. The vote was 495 for and 317 against accepting the terms of settlement. Eleven votes were not cast. The delegates from Illinois, who had 250 votes, were unanimously against a settlement. Indiana and West Virginia voted solidly to accept the operators' proposition, but there were scattering votes among the Ohio and Pittsburgh delegates against it. The resolution adopted is as follows:

RESOLVED, That we, the miners of Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, in convention assembled, do hereby agree to accept the proposition recommended by our national executive committee, viz., 65 cents in the Pittsburgh district; all places in above-named states where a relative price can be obtained to resume work and contribute liberally to the miners who do not receive the advance, where the fight must be continued to a bitter finish.

RESOLVED, That the national officers, executive board and district presidents act as an advisory board for the purpose of providing ways and means for the carrying on of the strike where necessary, provided, however, that no district resume work for 10 days for the purpose of giving miners in other districts time to confer with their operators and get the price if possible.

While 10 days is provided for the miners to resume work, it is probable many of the Ohio and Pittsburgh mines will be reopened at once.

The convention adopted resolutions endorsing the action of the national executive board in recommending a settlement on the terms proposed.

The Illinois miners will be called in convention at Springfield, Sept. 19, to determine what shall be done in that state. Some of the Illinois delegates are very bitter in their denunciation of the action of the convention, since they claim their interests have not been given due consideration.

A resolution was adopted denouncing the action of the deputies in firing into the crowd of striking miners at Hazleton, Pa.

READY TO RETURN TO WORK.

Miners in the Pittsburgh District May Not Wait the Ten Days.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 13.—The Pittsburgh district coal operators believe that this week will find many mines in this region in full operation, and to further this belief, the majority of the mine owners have announced that their pits are open in readiness for all of their men who may wish to ignore the 10-day proviso of the Columbus settlement. It is believed that many of the strikers will take advantage of the opportunity.

Secretary Warner of the Miners, association, however, says the Columbus agreement will be strictly adhered to. It is now not believed though that the officials of the district will raise their hands to stop the men from going to work immediately.

A district convention of the miners has been called for Wednesday morning, at which "matters of vital importance are to be discussed." The convention is presumably called to devise ways and means for continuing the fight against such firms as still refuse to pay the district price, and it is thought the advisability of breaking the 10-day provision and returning to work at once will be acted on.

The settlement at Columbus on the basis that the striking miners return to work after an idleness of 10 days was ostensibly to give the miners of other states time to gain the consent of their operators to the agreement, but the operators here think it was in reality to steal enough of the trade of the Pittsburgh operators to pay them for the enforced idleness through the strike.

OLDEST POSTMASTER DEAD.

He Had Handled Mail Continuously For Nearly Seventy Years.

STUEBENVILLE, O., Sept. 13.—William Henry Wallace, Sr., of Hammondsville, Jefferson county, who claimed the distinction of having held continuously the position of postmaster longer than any other official in the United States, is dead, aged 86 years.

He was born in the province of Quebec, Canada, and came to Jefferson county in 1821. In June, 1830, he was made assistant postmaster at Wellsville, O., while General Jackson was president and William F. Barry of Kentucky was postmaster general.

In 1833 he was made postmaster at Wellsville, and has held office continuously ever since that time, a period of over 64 years as postmaster and three years as assistant.

INDICATIONS.—Generally fair weather; light to fresh easterly to southeasterly winds.

THE same modesty that impelled the Republicans to claim the electoral votes of Florida and Louisiana in 1876 was also their inspiration in the recent matter of claiming to be the occasion of the advance in wheat.

SINCE the Republicans claimed Florida and Louisiana in 1876 it has been no trouble at all for them to lay claim to anything lying around loose; hence their claim to anything resembling prosperity that may be floating around on account of the very low price of wheat in view of the short crop in four or five foreign countries.

Another Scandal.

FRANKFORT, Ky., September 10.—State Inspector Lester has taken up the investigation of the troubles of the State Institute for Feeble Minded Children. An ugly scandal is admitted by the officials of the institute in which a male official and a female attendant figured but both have been removed and it is not believed that Superintendent Huff will be held responsible for this.

Judge Paynter For Governor.

In an interview, published in the Enquirer, Mr. John Rodman, of Frankfort, speaking of Kentucky politics, says: "Judge Thomas H. Panter would be a most acceptable man for Governor, and would poll a very large vote in his end of the State, where we need it. He is making an able Judge, has a strong personal following, and is a fine man personally. We could not improve upon him as a candidate for Governor. Judge Hazelrigg is another good man, and he is talked of for the gubernatorial nomination."

Poor Little Dingley Bill.

The little Dingley bill must look about for a playmate of its own size in the game of prosperity, for wheat has grown entirely too big to associate with "little tads." As a matter of fact the Dingley tariff has had nothing whatever to do with the bringing to pass of the measure of prosperity this country is now enjoying. Its most enthusiastic advocates have long admitted that the delay in passing the measure gave importers the opportunity to secure a year's stock of goods in advance, and thus all hope of any benefit whatever was cut off for at least twelve months.

DON'T GO TO KLONDIKE,

But Come to the Maysville's Fair and Have a Good Time.

The Klondike regions of Alaska are nothing but gold, the precious metal for which humanity seem to be striving most to-day, but did you ever stop to think of the distance and perilous journey, gaunt starvation staring you in the face in attempting to reach that region? Eight thousand miles from Maysville, requiring three months constant journeying, 1,800 miles of which must be done by walking or its equivalent. Hundreds of pounds of baggage must be carried, innumerable privations and hardships encountered at every turn, and, last of all, is the straw which weighs the camel down, the bleaching bones of deluded humanity seem to gaze from eyeless skulls, and warn you to return, or better still, speaking to you from that distance, to remain at home. Now as a wise man would teach his ward, so we say to you, men and women who read this, do not go to Klondike, but come to Maysville's fair where you will be heartily welcomed, fully paid and go home with a better return for the little money expended than for any investment you ever made. Remember the fair begins Wednesday, September 22nd, and continues until Saturday, September 25th.

Maysville fair grounds are noted for their beautiful location; the grand stand has comfortable seats, room for seven thousand people; no extra charge to get on, 25c. admitting you to the fair. The floral hall will be regal in its garb of mercantile exhibits and rural commodities, to say nothing of the large manufacturing concerns which have already taken space, and promising our visiting friends sights fully worth a much larger exposition. In connection with the exhibit of fine horse rings which the catalogue contains the management announce the following great shows each day, with no additional charge: A Wild West troupe, a balloon ascension, high tower diving, green country roadster racing for purse of $25, owners to drive, horses to have no record. A double balloon race, exciting and thrilling. Clay pigeon and live sparrow shoots in which all amateur gunners and professional shots are highly interested; splendid music, free drinking water, all for the nominal sum mentioned above, while the street cars and railroads will convey you to and from the grounds at the usual fare.

These are enumerated to give the public and prospective patrons opportunity to see that honesty and fair dealing shall characterize the Maysville fair. All premiums paid before stock leaves the ring. Now in each of these departments, in which you are most interested, get yourself ready and come, for you will be sure to meet your friends at the greatest of all fairs of the year, which will close the season of summer pleasures.

Patrons will please be prompt with goods for the floral hall. The Superintendent will be on the ground Tuesday morning of fair week at 8:30 o'clock to enter all articles. The observance of this is especially urged that no hitch may be had in opening the hall to the public Wednesday when the fair begins.

Get your work ready and bring or send it. If you have any old portraits, antique furniture, ancient bric-a-brac or ye old time domestic articles send them for exhibition. They will be carefully watched and attentively guarded, night and day, and returned inviolate, unmolested, for the Superintendent will preside all the time.

Let's make this year's gathering a hummer.

Dangerous.

Saturday morning about 10 o'clock an electric car jumped the track near Wall street. While preparations were being made to replace it on the track, Carl A. Richmond, son of Mr. Lon Richmond the grocerymen, attempted to get on the car. As he took hold of a piece of metal he uttered a scream. A gentleman in the crowd saw the lad's danger and immediately pulled down the trolley, shutting off the electricity, and probably saving the little fellow's life. Parents should caution their children of this danger.

MR. AND MRS. FRANK PURNELL have the sympathy of their friends in the loss of their infant daughter Friday night. The remains were buried Saturday afternoon.

Go to Ballenger when you want anything in the jewelry line. He is showing an elegant stock of watch charms and other novelties and his goods are not surpassed, anywhere.

S. G. HILLIS, past Department Commander, will re-organize and muster in the John Thomas Parker Post, No. 57, G. A. R., at Vanceburg next Saturday. It has a list of thirty charter members.

THE committee appointed by the Kentucky M. E. conference to try the case of S. K. Ramey, ex-Presiding Elder of the Middlesborough District, who was suspended by the Examining Committee at London, Ky., found him guilty as charged of malfeasance, and he was expelled.

DR. JAMES SHACKLEFORD has been appointed by the State Board of Health a member of the County Board of Health. The board in authority has been reorganized and is now as follows: Dr. James Shackleford President, Dr. H. K. Adamson, Dr. Thomas E. Pickett Secretary.

DR. FLEMING PHILLIPS, of St. Louis, formerly of this city, has packed his grip and left for the Alaskan gold fields. Dr. Phillips practiced medicine in West Virginia for several years and recently went to St. Louis, where his elder brother, Dr. George M. Phillips, is a professor in the Barnes Medical College.

THAT was a strange fellow out in Indiana who returned his pension to the treasury. No wonder it was decided to look into his mental condition. "If there were many with such consciences," said a gentleman Saturday, "sufficient money would be covered into the U. S. Treasury to almost lift the debt, so many would find themselves underserving."

STATE COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE LUCAS MOORE is preparing to send out seed wheat to the farmers of Kentucky. The seed will be sent to about 200 farmers. The wheat furnished by the Commissioner for this purpose was furnished by John Sturgis, a Michigan farmer, and is a very fine species of European wheat. The 600 bushels will be shipped to Louisville, and the Commissioner will go there next week and send it out to the farmers.

Did You Ever

Try Electric Bitters as a remedy for your troubles? If not, get a bottle now and get relief. This medicine has been found to be peculiarly adapted to the relief and cure of all female complaints, exerting a wonderful direct influence in giving strength and tone to the organs. If you have loss of appetite, constipation, headache, fainting spells, or are nervous, sleepless, excitable, melancholy or troubled with dizzy spells, electric bitters is the medicine you need. Health and strength are guaranteed by its use. Fifty cents and $1.00 at J. James Wood's drug store.

NEWS Of Autumn Dress Goods.

Good news for the many style-wise women who are waiting for autumn's dress textures. Some fifty new effects in goods at 50c. a yard and less are ready. Early choice means sure satisfaction and economy.

PLAIDS promise to hold a leading place in the display for waists, for skirts and for entire gowns. We have them in silk stripes and plain wools, in cotton wool mixtures you can hardly tell from all wool and in the all silk. Prices begin at 25c.

NOVELTIES reign supreme, notwithstanding the crowding of plain fabrics. Our 25c. and 39c. lines are said to be the prettiest and most popular fabrics we have ever shown. Choicest styles won't last long.

PLAIN GOODS in Drap d'Ete and Poplin climax elegance. We have the handsome braids and taffeta linings to complete them, too.

HANDKERCHIEFS.—Have you heard of our August sale? Of course you have, but perhaps you haven't heard there is lots of handkerchief goodness left, though nearly 2,000 handkerchiefs did go from our counter to your pocket in three days. Would poor handkerchiefs march in such battalions? Quality and low price formed the ranks. Handkerchiefs at 5c. with lace trimmed edges; embroidered white mull with scalloped and corded edges; dainty, delicate colored bordered ones; neat and pretty mourning kinds; hemstitched initialed ones—5c. for any of them.

COLONIZING NEGROES.

Wholesale Importation For Voting Purposes in Ohio.

The Washington Times says: "It is claimed out in Ohio, and that, too, with a good deal of circumstantiality of detail, that the Republicans are colonizing the State for election purposes. It is said that ignorant colored men are being shipped in from Kentucky, Tennessee and West Virginia for the purpose of registering in the doubtful districts. It is claimed that their votes are necessary to offset the defection among the native colored vote, and that they are being settled in such cities as Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton, Toledo and Springfield."

"One of the most prominent papers of Ohio yesterday stated that one of the most substantial business men of Southern Ohio came across the river at Marietta a few days ago from West Virginia. He said that at Belpre, a small station near Marietta, twenty-seven young colored men who had been brought across the river boarded a train for Cincinnati. They were under the management of an aged colored man and a respectably clad white man. His curiosity being aroused, the business man surveyed the crowd and found that each of the colored men was supplied with a small quantity of silver and a pint bottle of whisky, upon the contents of which they were having a reasonably good time. When asked their destination the men said they were bound for Cincinnati where they had been promised two month's work. They are to be taken there, registered, and voted if possible."

NEW KIND OF BUG

Said to be Playing Havoc With Elm Trees in Kentucky.

[Exchange.]

A strange occurrence is reported to an Evening Post correspondent by farmers living in Woodford County. They say that every elm tree upon their farms and in all the county within a radius of miles around Versailles have died down to the roots, during this summer. Old trees, whose trunks are two and three feet in diameter, that have stood the storms of a hundred years, and young elm bushes and saplings have alike perished. Other varieties of trees in the same territory are green and vigorous, the elms alone being affected.

From other counties of the State comes news of the same wholesale destruction of elms by some kind of bug. In the central Kentucky region hundreds of the finest elms have been killed, and those who have investigated say it is being caused by an insect known as the "borer." In western and southern Kentucky the same thing is reported.

MINERAL wealth better than Klondike has been discovered in Kentucky mountains. A man informed the Middlesborough News recently that he has found silver and lead to shoot at the birds. An assay of the rock showed 80 per cent. lead and 2 per cent. silver.

THE HUNGRY REPUBLICANS.

Collector Yerkes Plan to Rid Himself of Democrats in the Revenue Service.

NICHOLASVILLE, Ky., Sep. 10.—Collector John W. Yerkes is sending all through the district the following letter to the Democratic Gaugers and Storekeepers, several of which have been received in this county, and from one of which this is made:

"RICHMOND, KY., September 8, 1897.
Sir: It appearing from the records of this office that there is a much larger number of subordinate officers in commission in this district than the service requires, and it being deemed desirable that the force be reduced so as to subserve the best interest of the Government, and also the interest of the officers employed, I have recommended to the honorable Commissioner of Internal Revenue a revocation of your commission in the internal revenue service. This revocation is recommended alone on the grounds of a necessary reduction of the force in this collection district. Respectfully,
JOHN W. YERKES, Collector."

The civil service law allows 15 per cent. more than are necessary to do the work in the district. Mr. Yerkes' statement that "there is a much larger number of subordinate officers than the service requires" is disputed by the internal revenue men here. The former collector never found that he had more men than the service required. In fact it is said that when all the distilleries in the district are running there are not enough commissioned men in the district to fill all the positions. Of course the number of commissions held has been increased since Mr. Yerkes went in by the revival of old commissions held by Republicans, who have been assigned to duty. But it is said that he wants to make room for those who have passed the civil-service examination, and for old soldiers, who do not have to stand the examinations.

A prominent Democrat, in speaking of the foregoing, said: "The letter, on the face of it, is a violation of the civil service law. It is a rank violation and one which I venture the assertion has not been committed by any other Collector in the United States."

Fine Buggies.

We have just placed in our repository a number of handsome new jobs, home manufacture. These, with our already large stock, give us one of the finest displays of buggies ever offered in Maysville.

We do not want to carry a job over for another season, so we have made a big reduction in prices. Here is your chance before the pick is gone. Come quick and secure a bargain.

We have also a number of brake carts, just what the farmer needs. These, like our buggies, we are offering at a great reduction. We can not replace them at the price we offer them to you.

This is no Klondike scheme, but a golden opportunity to get a handsome job at a low price. Courteously,

REMINISCENCES.

Slave Times as Remembered by Our Germantown Correspondent—The Negro of To-day.

POTOSKY, September 7, 1897.

At the closing exercises of the literary society of our boarding house your correspondent was on the program for an essay and read the following: Extending not very far back in our memory our mind lights on that period in the history of our native State when peace, quietness and contentment reigned throughout her borders. The typical Kentuckian sat around his native hearth stone surrounded by his happy family, the bright wood fire sparkled and blazed in the old fashioned fire place, the happy little dandle sat in the corner or ran the family errands, "all happy and bright;" or else he mounted his handsome steed and rode forth to view the broad acres of lovely bluegrass over which his herds of cattle roamed, fat and sleek, or leisurely chewed their cud beneath the shade of native forest trees; or else he viewed with pride the waving harvests and rustling corn, and listened to the whistling of the partridge or the song of the mocking bird. Why should he not be contented and happy? What cared he for the outside world? His home was his ideal heaven. Intertwined with his being and his interests was a race for whose existence among us he was not responsible. New England's cupidity and anxiety for money making had fastened them upon old Virginia and Kentucky, the natural daughter of the mother State, had inherited her share of this unfortunate race. In the hands of a humane and generous master, as to our certain knowledge, most of them were contented and happy. They were well fed and clothed, they were well cared for in sickness and health. They had their little patches of produce and were given Saturday afternoons for working the same. To this day there is the strongest attachment existing on the part of the old negroes for the families to whom they once belonged. The darkest feature connected with negro slavery in Kentucky was the slave trade, and to my certain knowledge the man who was the most dreaded by the negroes and the least respected by the white people was the dealer in human chattels. I have seen the wife torn from the husband's side and the child from its mother's embrace and sold into Southern slavery. Not far from my home stands a log building; across the windows are the iron bars, and in the floor the iron rings to which they were chained until enough were accumulated to make a shipment South. This building is known to-day as Anderson's jail and is used for a tobacco barn.

But the war has come and gone, slavery is wiped out, but the slave and his descendants are with us in vast and increasing numbers. They are well taken care of by laws; they have well built churches and school houses, mostly by the generosity of the white people; many of them are paupers, few of them are frugal or have any desire to accumulate or provide for the morrow. Old things have passed away, and all things are new. The face of society is changed; the State is undergoing a rapid revolution; railroads are buildings in every direction and the whistle of the locomotive is heard in the land and her people are joining in the mad chase for wealth and its concomitants. But whenever you find a true Kentuckian you find a man who loves his native State, one who is proud of her record in peace and in war, one who holds dearer than life the sacred precincts of home, family, and wife to him who dares to cast a blot upon their fair name; he loves his "old Kentucky home" because of its broad blue grass, feeling for its waving forests, for the sacred memories of the past, because it's the home of brave men and beautiful women, because its inhabitants are chivalrous, generous and gallant, and last but not least because there sleeps beneath its green sod the friends of our youth and the loved ones of our ripper years.

Followed by singing "Old Kentucky Home."

The doctor may be a good old man, but even so, medical examinations and the "local application" treatment are abhorrent to every modest woman. They are embarrassing—often useless. They should not be submitted to until everything else has been tried. In nine cases out of ten, there is no reason for them. In nine cases out of ten, the doctor in general practice isn't competent to treat female diseases. They make a branch of medicine by themselves. They are distinct from other ailments. They can be properly understood and treated only by one who has had years of actual practice and experience in this particular line. This is true of Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a remedy for all derangements of the reproductive organs of women, has been in actual use for more than thirty years. It cures every form of "female weakness."

Three barns were burned near Tipton, Ind., by incendiaries. Three horses were cremated and several buggies and wagons were lost. A detective will be employed to hunt up the persons who have been burning barns in that vicinity this summer.

Charles D. Nichols, a brother of Delaney F. Nichols, the noted attorney of Brooklyn, died in the workhouse at Quincy, Ill., Sunday from sunstroke. Nichols was serving a sentence for vagrancy. His brother's address was learned from a letter in his pocket.

John Shaw, a young married man, was bound over to court and sent to jail at Bristol, Tenn., on a charge of abducting Lizzie Osborn, a pretty 17-year-old girl. Miss Osborn has been missing from her home for 10 days and her parents have searched for her in vain.

Joe Wright, colored, was shot and probably fatally wounded by Chief of Police S. A. Ball of Middlesboro, Ky., early Saturday morning. Ball was on his way home, when he was met by Wright, who jumped from an ambush and fired. Ball returned the fire, his bullet taking effect.

The A. O. Jones sewer pipe and paving brick works at Zanesville, O., giving employment to about 140 people, was burned Sunday night. The fire started shortly after midnight in the boiler room. The loss complete amounts to $50,000, in uncompleted ware, buildings and machinery.

Mathew Wood, aged 23, living near Belle Center, O., was killed at the Big Four crossing at Yelverton, after midnight. The supposition is that he went to sleep and his horse crossed the track just as the train came along. His sweetheart, Miss Mary Anderson, accompanied him as far as Silver Creek, her home.

An old moss-covered vault in the old St. James Episcopal churchyard at Beaver, Pa., was opened a few days ago by the sexton and in the interior was found a live toad. The most recent date on the vault was "William Henry, 1798." There seems to have been no possible way by which the toad could have entered the tomb after it was sealed.

SHOT DOWN ON THE STREET.

A Peaceful Citizen Murdered While on His Way to Church.

VALDOSTA, Ga., Sept. 13.—Sam Parker, a well known citizen of Cecil, was shot and killed yesterday morning by Shelton Dampier. Parker was on his way to church and stopped on the street to talk to some gentlemen, Dampier being in the crowd. After a few minutes' conversation, the crowd began to break up, and Parker, Dampier and the town marshal were left alone.

Dampier drew his pistol at this juncture, and putting it against the bosom of Parker, fired one shot. The ball passed through Parker's heart and he sank to the ground without a word, dying instantly. Turning to the marshal, Dampier waved his pistol in his face and defied him, threatening to kill him if he moved. The desperado then turned and made his escape.

Telephone messages were sent to this city after dogs with which to trace the murderer, but they could not be sent, as the sheriff of Brooks county had them tracing a fugitive there. Every effort will be made, however, to capture Dampier.

The cause of the tragedy is said to date back three years when Dampier was prosecuted for stealing some meat from Parker. Dampier was convicted and sent to the chain gang. He swore vengeance at the time declaring that he would kill Parker on sight if he was released or when his term expired.

His sentence expired six or seven months ago. Yesterday was the first time that he and Parker have met since. Parker was known as a peaceable citizen and leaves a wife and seven or eight children to mourn his tragic death. Dampier was a young man of rather unsavory reputation.

CINCINNATI TOBACCO MARKET.

Prices Kept Up in the Face of Large Offerings—The Growing Crop.

	1897.	1896.
Hhds.	Hhds.	Hhds.
Offerings for the week	2,663	2,097
Rejections	721	615
Actual sales	1,942	1,482
Receipts	2,411	1,302
Offerings year to date	75,595	72,406
Rejections	17,950	21,559
Actual sales	58,645	50,847
Receipts	63,063	51,560

The Cincinnati Leaf Tobacco Warehouse Company, in its circular for last week, has the following:

The large offerings on Tuesday and Wednesday had a depressing effect upon the market, and caused many rejections. Not that prices were any lower, still there was less animation, and sellers were not satisfied, believing that prices would do some better as soon as the offerings were less. The speculators, in connection with some of the manufacturers' buyers, were careless in bidding, but still all grades were watched very carefully, so that bargains were not plentiful. The main demand was for low grades, and a very spirited competition often occurred on these grades, and there were less rejections on this class of goods.

Red tips and mediums were a shade easier, as one of our largest buyers of these grades was not on the market as strong as he was a few days ago. Some offerings of the better grades brought into market several buyers who have been waiting for the best tobacco. The competition was all that could be desired, and several hogsheds were sold from 16c. to 21c. While the demand for these fancy tobaccos is confined to a few purchasers, we think the demand will require all there is at good prices.

Reports from the country in regard to the growing crop were more favorable the past few days, as it has grown out some and like all other weeds it will grow some time through the season. There is some complaint for the last week in regard to the dry weather being a detriment, drying up the crop, but the estimate of 65 to 75 per cent. of an average crop will not be far from correct. The market closed Friday with small offerings, and what might be termed an easier market.

TWO WOMEN BURNED TO DEATH.

Kerosene Cooking Stove Upset With Disastrous Results.

LYNN, Mass., Sept. 13.—Two maiden sisters, Miss Harriet C. Sheldon, 82 years of age, and Miss Matilda Sheldon, 86 years, were fatally burned at their home here last night. The old ladies, who lived in a house by themselves, were cooking with a kerosene stove, when the latter tipped over, and the oil ran out and ignited.

The burning oil communicated to Matilda's clothes and they were quickly ablaze. Harriet attempted to extinguish the fire and her clothing also caught. The ladies were both infirm and they could do little else than scream for assistance. Neighbors rushed to their aid. But Matilda ran through the house in the front room and threw herself into an easy chair and when the neighbors got to her side she was dead.

On the floor in the kitchen lay the other sister, suffering terribly. The neighbors soon extinguished the flames and the woman was removed to the hospital, where she died a few hours afterward.

ON MEMORY'S WALLS

Of all the beautiful pictures that hang on memory's wall there is one loved picture ever which seemeth the best of all. All of which is no doubt true in everyone's experience, but how true also is it that memory fades and fades we would recall by its aid we sometimes cannot perfectly. Then see to it that your friends have good pictures and that you have GOOD pictures of your friends. Elegant Cabinets, $1 a dozen. See our Stereographs.

ASSIGNEE'S SALE

—OF—

LAND!

As assignee of John W. Osborne, I will, on Saturday, September 18th,

at 2 o'clock p. m., at the residence of John W. Osborne, on the Dover and Minerva turnpike road, in Mason County, sell to the highest and best bidder, on a credit of six, twelve and eighteen months, the following described real estate: 1. The home farm of John W. Osborne, containing 130 acres, situated on the Dover and Minerva turnpike road, about two miles from Dover. The farm contains a handsome residence and other available improvements and is one of the best farms in Mason County.

2. About thirty acres of land on Lee's Creek, about one and a half miles from the home farm. This tract has a tenant house on it, is good land and just the place for one desiring a small farm.

3. The John W. Osborne Tobacco warehouse in Dover, Mason County.

Possession of the first two tracts for purposes of selling will be given immediately and full possession March 1, 1898. Possession of the warehouse will be given March 1, 1898. Purchasers must give bond with good security for the purchase money, bearing interest at 6 per cent. per annum from day of sale, and a lien will be retained as additional security. Prospective purchasers are invited to inspect the property. For further information address me at Tuckalee, Mason County, Ky., or Thos. R. Phister, Maysville, Ky. J. J. PERRINE, Assignee of John W. Osborne.
